PORTS OF CALL

Hubbard Glacier: The largest tidewater glacier in North America, Hubbard Glacier measures 76 miles long & plunges 1,200 feet into the depths of the bay. Its immense beauty and phenomenal blue hues are enchanting, even from afar. The area around Hubbard Glacier is also renowned for its wildlife, where whales, harbor seals and otters swim; brown bears, moose and black-tailed deer roam ashore; and a wide variety of seabirds soar gracefully across the sky.

Glacier Bay National Park: Just west of Juneau, this breathtaking national park and preserve boasts some of the world's most spectacular tidewater glaciers, such as Margerie Glacier, which often drops colossal chunks of ice into the sea. Take in the awe-inspiring scenery as you enjoy an unforgettable day of sailing through this dazzling park, where you'll glide along emerald waters and past calving icebergs, and can breathe in the crisp, fresh air to your heart's content.

Skagway: Skagway was the gateway to the gold fields for the thousands who flocked to Alaska and the Yukon with the hope of striking it rich. Skagway may have boasted the shortest route to the Klondike but it wasn't the easiest. The gold rush was a boon and by 1898, Skagway was Alaska's largest town with a population of about 20,000. Today, Skagway has less than 1,000 residents but it still retains the flavor of the gold rush era.

Juneau: In 1880, it was slow going for Joe Juneau & Richard Harris as they searched for gold with the help of Native guides. After climbing mountains, forging streams & facing countless difficulties, they found nuggets "as large as beans." Today Juneau is famous not only for gold and government but also for its breathtakingly beautiful glaciers and stunning views of both water and mountains.

Ketchikan: Visitors to Ketchikan will be intrigued by its rich Native heritage, which includes the world's oldest collection of totem poles at Totem Heritage Center. The Haida, Tlingit & Tsimshian are all a part of the city's colorful history. Ketchikan, with its abundance of salmon, is also a sportfishing paradise. Sightseers will be impressed with both the scenic town & its surroundings, especially Misty Fjords National Monument.
